IV. Reading comprehension. Choose the best answer based on the passage. 2 points for each.

Passage 1

The study, published this month in the journal Oecologia, reveals a new wrinkle in how insecticides may be impacting ecosystems. Mosquitoes in the study area in Costa Rica have evolved resistance to common chemicals meant to kill them and other pests. The mosquitoes' predators, meanwhile, have not kept pace with that evolution—and that has allowed the mosquito population to boom. Edd Hammill, an ecologist at Utah State University and leading author of the study, first got an inkling that insecticides might not be having their intended effect while conducting research in orange plantations in northern Costa Rica.

“We felt like we were getting a lot more mosquito bites in plantations than in pristine areas and started to wonder why,” Hammill says. So he and his team surveyed where the mosquitoes were coming from: bromeliads, a group of plants found in warm parts of the Americas, often growing on tree branches. The water-filled spaces between their tightly overlapping leaves _____ a whole community of insect larvae, including mosquitoes of the species Wyeomyia abebala.

Passage 2

The Body Shop was founded in 1976 by Dame Anita Roddick. It currently has a range of 1,000 products that sell in 3,000 franchised stores in 66 countries. Anita Roddick's cosmetics business idea originated from her visitation in 1970 of "The Body Shop" housed in a car repairs garage in the U.S. selling soaps and lotions of natural ingredients. Six years later, in 1976, Roddick opened a similar shop in the UK with the same business name, color scheme, and cosmetic lines. Since its first launch, The Body Shop experienced swift growth, increasing at a rate of 50 percent annually. The Body Shop supported social and environmental campaigns to promote its business later in the 1980s. In 1997, Roddick launched a global feminism campaign against media stereotyping for women. One of the foci was unreasonably skinny models whose images on media led to the increasing numbers in bulimia and anorexia then. The Body Shop was sold to L'Oréal in March 2006. It was reported that Anita made £130 million from the sale. Later in an interview after the takeover, Roddick addressed herself as "trojan horse" who by selling her business to a huge firm will be able to influence the decisions it makes. Following her death in 2007, Prime Minister Gordon Brown _____ her the title, Dame Anita, and praised her an inspiration to businesswomen.
